Visit 【Oatman】, the historic gold mining town in Arizona, where a gold mine worth $10 million was discovered in 1915, producing approximately $260 million in gold by 1941.

The legendary actress Clark Gable spent her honeymoon here, and the town gained fame, becoming a must-visit destination along Route 66. Visitors stick thousands of one-dollar bills on the walls of bars and restaurants. The most interesting feature is the wild donkeys roaming freely in town, descendants of those used by miners for transportation in the past.

Next, we head to Laughlin, Nevada's third-largest casino city, known as the “Waterfront Casino City.” Located at the tri-state border of Nevada, California, and Arizona, this casino city built along the Colorado River offers a romantic charm distinct from the opulence of Las Vegas.

At night, stroll along the riverbank and listen to the gentle flow of the water.

Day 02-Monument Valley - Arch National Park

Passing through 【Seligman】, the birthplace of Route 66, which retains the traditional atmosphere of Route 66, it serves as a time capsule witnessing the prosperous scenes of Route 66, the “Mother of American Highways,” through the Great Depression, World War II, and the Baby Boom era. Although it has been replaced by the current interstate highways, it remains a source of inspiration for Hollywood and car manufacturing; In the afternoon, arrive at the Navajo Indian Reservation - Monument Valley, a sacred and awe-inspiring region. Towering natural stone monuments stand proudly across the vast desert, seeming to commemorate and celebrate the glory of ancient Native Americans. Located within the largest Native American reservation, it is hailed as the “Eighth Wonder of the World” and the most frequently filmed location for Western movies. You may opt to take a jeep tour into the valley at your own expense to deeply experience the wonders of the canyon.

*Due to the influence of Western films, the 5-mile radius around Monument Valley has long been synonymous with the American West in people's minds.

*Indian Jeep tours into the canyon cost $85, and dinner is included.

Over the years, wind and water erosion have sculpted these unique arches, offering a breathtaking sight. After exploring Arches National Park, traverse the Virgin River Gorge and spend the night in Mesquite, a small town at the tri-state border of Utah, Arizona, and Nevada.
